Dear whomever this may concern

I am writing to express my interest in the software engineer internship at Apple. This primarily stems from my enjoyment and particularly low level systems. Apple has been pioneers in low level embedded systems through the development of iPhone, iPad and other great leaps and bounds in the industry. On top of this Apple are key players within the personal assistant domain with Siri and their research. Furthermore this culture would help me grow my career and knowledge as after I graduate I hope to progress in the sector of AI and robotics.

I feel I have the required experience for this role as C++ has been one of my main languages for the past few years. When it comes to swift I own a MacBook and use Xcode an amount to which I am comfortable with the language. The main area which I would like to expand on is my team work as I have worked in small teams before but nothing large and Apple is known for excellent team work and large teams so being thrown in at the deep end so to speak would be an amazing way for me to learn

Thank you for any consideration you give my application

Yours faithfully,
Kieran Grayshon
